Remember Your Tarp

It is very important to tarp and protect plant material while transporting. Tarping plant material while transporting will protect it from the exposure of wind from road travel. Plants that travel untarped will lose moisture, have a tendency to defoliate, and may be wind burnt.

Plants that are tarped during transport look better and have a greater chance of survival than plants that travel untarped. Remember that we only accept returns on material that was tarped when it left and when it is returned.

When you are transporting mulch or other bulk material it must be tarped. It is against the law to transport loose material without a tarp. You can get pulled over and be cited for a leaky load. That's a ticket!

Remember to bring your tarp with you when you come to the nursery. If you forget or don't have one, we have many sizes of tarps available for sale. We can also special order a tarp for you in any size you need.
