Roses...

The beauty beyond the thorns

Roses are red... and pink, and white. Roses are low or high and big or small, roses are multi colored, etc. So many choices it may seem a tough task to choose the right variety to fit your landscape needs. And if you have seen the perennial lot lately you will notice the options have increased!

The most popular rose is our shrub rose. Carpets, Knock Outs, or Drift - low mounding, repeat blooms, and low maintenance, they can be added into any landscape effortlessly and add continuous color all season.

If you want tall and proud look no further than the Hybrid Tea Roses. Although they may require some extra attention, these roses have the showiest blooms, the most fragrance, and are as majestic on the plant as they are in a vase.

Need to add some accent to an arbor, fence, or gazebo? Add a climber. These beauties are easy to grow and maintain. Their long canes adapt easily to any structure.

Direct the canes horizontally as they grow tall and watch the enhancement from the blooms. Give them plenty of room and they can provide just the right splash of color to brighten any structure.
