

CHRISTENSEN'S PLANT CENTER

Wholesale Supplier To Landscape Professionals

The digging she has ended.

As you read this, the digging of deciduous trees in the Midwest is ending. To say that the digging window was small this year is an understatement!

In some parts of Michigan and Ohio, growers have reported digging windows as small as TWO WEEKS. Compare this to the usual six weeks, and there may be material problems later this year. Many growers are reporting that their orders to all of their customers may not be filled in full.

Please make sure that you are talking to your sales person here at Christensen's Plant Center. We have worked very hard with our growers to ensure that our full compliment of trees gets dug for you.

Call early and make sure that yours show up on your jobsite when you need them.
